Jared has actively expanded his network of clients to include business professionals throughout South Florida, from Miami to West Palm Beach. He is a Financial Advisor, Registered Representative of MetLife Securities, Inc., and holds Series 6, 63, and 65 Securities registrations. Jared is licensed in FL and CT to offer insurance and securities products for individuals as well as businesses and other groups.*

Following what had been virtually a lifelong passion for film, Jared transferred to the University of Miami (FL) School of Communication from Skidmore College. However, he has since decided that his interests could best be pursued if he majored in Marketing and minored in Film. When Jared had free time over the summers, he usually worked at his father's offices of Prudential and later Wachovia Securities, where he learned the ropes from his father, a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ practitioner. Jared Morgenstern graduated from the University of Miami in 2003 with a Bachelors degree in Business Administration and a minor degree in Motion Pictures. Following in his father's footsteps, Jared decided to enter the same business and pursue a career at MetLife.

Jared is originally from West Hartford, Connecticut and still has family in Connecticut as well as New York. He is a member of the University of Miami Alumni Association, A Board Member of the Board of Directors for the David Posnack Jewish Community Center, the Vice President of the Broward Business and Professional Association, on the membership committee of the David Posnack Jewish Community Center, an ambassador on the Orange Bowl Committee, a member of the Jewish Federation of Broward County, a member of Temple Dor Dorim, and a volunteer for the American Cancer Society. Jared is an avid film and basketball fan. Also, he writes screenplays in his spare time.

Jared has lived in South Florida since 2000 and currently lives in Plantation with his wife Lauren.
